Dear Friends,

It is an honor to extend my congratulations to FUSIA Communications on the occasion of its 17th Annual Graduation & Inauguration Dinner. It marks another milestone in their longstanding commitment to fostering diplomacy, global understanding, and the professional development of young people through international exchange.

Since 2002, FUSIA has served as a bridge between cultures, connecting young adults from around the world with U.S. organizations in pursuit of mutual learning and collaboration. Their work represents the best of people-to-people diplomacy, empowering the next generation of global leaders while enriching the institutions that host them.

My office has proudly welcomed FUSIA interns yearly, and I can personally attest to the professionalism, creativity, and international perspective they bring to our work. These interns are not only eager to learn, but they consistently make meaningful contributions to our team and help us better serve our diverse community.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to President Elizabeth Kay and the entire FUSIA team for their tireless dedication to cultivating global talent and building international bridges through work-based exchange. Their leadership and vision continue to open doors for countless young people.

Congratulations once again, and my wishes for continued success in the future.

Warm regards,
